To whom it may concern,

I think the settlement between Microsoft and DOJ & 9 states is reasonable and fair. Further litigation is not only costly to government and Microsoft, it will also hurt the American economy, computer industry and consumers ultimately.

Unfortunately a few of Microsoft's competitors have chosen to use this lawsuit as their weapons against Microsoft in market place. They really should concentrate on designing better products and win the consumers through products not antitrust lawsuits.

As a consumer, I wholly support the settlement between Microsoft and DOJ & 9 states. I think it is a very good thing for American economy, for computer industry and for all American consumers!

Sincerely yours,
Li Jiang
